5.2. TREASURER'S REPORT

LES ARBOR (TREASURER)

Refer to Annual Report, Financial Statements and Auditors Report

Independent auditors report required by legislation –the Associations finances were audited by David Unwin Accountants CPA Pty Ltd, Morayfield Qld.

Treasurer's Report – Les presented a precis of the financial position of the Association.

Les explained that the accounts for Financial Year 2022-23 show a net loss of $27,235, against the budgeted loss of $55,377. This was due to the following factors:

- the second tranche of the BCC Funding Grant of $26,268 (Les expressed the Associations appreciation to the Department of Housing)
- subscription income totalled $103,819, against a budgeted income of $89,530

- increase in the upgrade to life subscriptions of $14,437, against the budgeted $3,850
- product sales and support desk contributed $9,126 against the budget of $5,600 including . The Guidelines for Managers contributing $4,409 to this income stream.

Operating expenditure was $7,199 under budget at $169,783.

Major expenditures were salaries, IT ($16,919), newsletter production and postage ($9,930) and office lease ($18,218).

Travel costs of $4,898 for village visits were expended by four members of the committee.

At the end of June, our balance sheet showed that our net assets were $331,614, including two term deposits totalling $281,383.

The 2023/24 budget predicts a loss of $77,232, after allowing for the third tranche of the BCC Grant.

Les explained that the Association primarily relies on residents for its funding, but the majority of residents do not recognise the role that the Association plays on their behalf and that is limiting our funding. In this respect, we cannot understate our appreciation for the BCC Grants.

5.4 VILLAGE BUDGET ASSISTANCE REPORT

LES AMBOR (TREASURER)

Refer to Annual Report

Les spoke about his role assisting resident committees with their understanding and interpretation of their village budgets and financial accounts. The most common issues raised are:

- the lack of understanding of S107, particularly in respect to wages; and
- over reliance on Quantity Surveyors' reports, when operators set the MRF budgets.

Les raised the important issue of problems surrounding the application of surpluses in the GSCF to reduce fees. The current interpretation of applying surpluses to monthly fees means that discounting must be recovered in the following year's budget, which means those fee increases will most likely be more than CPI.

Les asserted that this is not serving the residents as I think the Department intended and recommends that a better system is to allow disbursements, be that one only, or a number throughout the year.

5.5 MEDIATION AND ADVOCACY (MaD)

MARK RICHARDSON

Refer to Annual Report

Mark explained that since January 2023 he has dealt with 13 new matters, and one continuing matter from the previous year on behalf of members. This is 1.4 matters per month which is substantially lower than the previous years.

The inherited matter concerns the apportionment of the insurance cost for a village under a Global Policy shared amongst several villages of the scheme operator compared to if the operator had individual policies for each village. ARQRV has supported this matter as the outcome may impact many villages and residents. This matter is listed for a Hearing in late September in QCAT.

Mark was pleased to advise that all 13 new matters have been resolved to the satisfaction of the members, and included the following:

- spouse licences
- reinstatement costs on exiting a village
- The operator's requirement for a resident to sign a Deed of Alterations and Additions in relation to the installation of solar panels on common property with substantial legal costs to be paid by the resident
- exit entitlements
- an operator proposing to set up childminding facilities in a village
- responsibility for trees on the common property compared to in a resident's lot
- water charges and the cost of installing new meters.

In many instances, the issues were resolved by explaining and clarifying the resident's rights and obligations, or having conversations the operator's staff to resolve the misunderstanding. On a couple of occasions, more direct intervention was required by meeting with the operator.

Mark explained that disputes are down because:

- residents have a better understanding of their rights and obligations; and
- there is a general trend with the behaviour of operators improving and being prepared to engage in and discuss issues particularly when the ARQRV is involved.

Mark was of the view that ARQRV has gained the respect of operators and government departments alike; and that there is a general acknowledgment that the ARQRV will support its members in a way that is conciliatory with a view to resolving issues in a common-sense way.

He noted the benefits of:

- the ongoing dialogue and collaboration between the ARQRV and the Department of Housing as well as the industry bodies that represent operators
- how the Royal Commission has been a catalyst for a change in how operators engage with their residents.
